PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT, 374 + 376 – 382 NEW SOUTH HEAD ROAD, DOUBLE BAY

ADDENDUM TO URBAN DESIGN OPINION OF 12 MAY 2015

1.0 Purpose of this addendum.

This addendum to our Urban Design Opinion (UDO) dated 15 May 2015, is in support of the recently revised Planning Proposal at 374 +376 – 382 New South Head Road in Double Bay. This proposal for a six storey building, is to modify an approved and constructed retail / office building on the site.

This statement has been prepared by Philip Thalís, Director of Hill Thalís, Architecture + Urban Projects Pty Ltd, based on information provided by Eeles Trelease Pty Ltd Architects, on behalf of Fivex Pty Ltd.

2.0 An Appropriate Urban Scale (updating UDO clause 3.3 An Appropriate Urban Scale)

It is noted that the proposal on a central and prominent corner, exceeds both Council's Height and Floor Space Ratio Controls. As the architects' montages show, the proposed additions will make the building more prominent in both Knox Street and New South Head Road streetscapes. The additions will be comparable in height to the large Sir Stamford development adjoining the site to the west along the curve of Knox Street, and would still be smaller than the InterContinental Hotel nearby in Cross Street.

It is also important to note that the DCP envisages significant changes to the area's urban form, changes which will take a few decades to eventuate. The Kiaora Lands Redevelopment, which replaced the old Woolworths, diagonally across the road, points to a much more urban frontage to New South Head Road. Given that the Double Bay Centre DCP contemplates higher building form, than the existing fragmented low and mid scale built form on adjoining properties, it is important to consider the proposed 6 storey development in the context of the anticipated future context.

The proposal would not impede on any views to or from conservation areas or heritage items.

3 RECOMMENDATION

The subject site has unique characteristics not shared with the remaining properties in the Town Centre and it has long been nominated in the DCP as a prominent corner that requires a strong architectural response. We consider this six storey proposal, on this key corner site in the very heart of the Double Bay Centre, would not constitute a precedent for approving increased density elsewhere in the Town Centre.

Given the Architectural and Urban Design merit embodied in the proposal, appropriate to the site and locality, I recommend that Woollahra Council favourably consider this Planning Proposal application. Please do not hesitate to contact us should you require further information.

Yours sincerely,

Philip Thalís

Specialist skills

Philip actively promotes the culture of architecture and city making, combining the direction of the practice with teaching, research, conference papers and public lectures, architectural criticism and expert opinion. He has lectured at all universities in Sydney, with a particular research focus on the history of Sydney's architecture and urban development, and the architecture of the city more generally. Philip's advice and expertise have regularly been sought by various tiers of Government and a range of private clients.

Hill Thalís were formed as a result of winning of the Olympic Village National Architectural Competition in 1992. The collaborative project sought to integrate urban design, housing and ESD in a holistic way, and was instrumental in establishing the focus and agenda of Sydney's "Green Games". In 2006 Hill Thalís won the Darling Harbour East International Competition. Spanning between these competition-winning schemes, Hill Thalís have built a strong design reputation across a range of project types and scales. Under Philip's direction the practice has won more than 40 competitions, commendations and awards, from various groups including the Institute of Architects (AIA/RAIA), Institute of Planners (PIA/RAPI), Landscape Architects Institute (AILA), the National Trust, Development Corporations and local Councils for architectural, urban, public domain and heritage projects.

Eeles Trelease is a broad-based architectural practice with nearly 30 years experience in delivering residential, commercial, educational and assisted living projects. The principles of passive sustainable design have been integral to Eeles Trelease's design approach since the company began in 1984 and remain fundamental to every scheme.

Our recent focus has been implementing active sustainable design in our commercial and residential projects, as demonstrated in the commercial/retail building at Double Bay and the apartments at Woolloomooloo. This work has been developed from the principles established at the Newington apartments (RAIA NSW Building of the Decade, 1990's) and Mount Tomah Botanic Garden Visitors Centre.

Inherent in all our work is a strong and clear concept which is followed throughout the project to the last detail. Together with our emphasis on client focussing and seeking innovation in all aspects of the project our aim is to deliver a cohesive and value-added outcome.

Some of our best known projects are:

- Cardita Apartments, Little Bay
Randwick City Urban Design Award 2008 - Residential, Multi Unit Housing
Randwick City Urban Design Award 2008 - Sustainability
Environ BPN Sustainability Awards 2008 - Low to Medium Density Residential
- Commercial/Retail Building; Environmentally Sustainable Design (ESD), Double Bay

RAIA NSW Sustainable Architecture Commendation 2007
- Edgewater Apartments, Cabarita
UDIA Small Residential Projects Award 2003
- Olympic Apartments, Newington.
RAIA National Architecture Award 2000
The finished development has become one of Sydney's most successful lifestyle housing developments.
- Botanic Gardens Trust - Mount Tomah Botanic Garden - ongoing client since 1985
Visitor Centre (Stage 1 & 2), Kiosk, Education Centre & World Heritage Exhibition Centre
