Executive Summary

This Planning Proposal seeks to amend the Ryde Local Environmental Plan (LEP) 2014 to protect the dwelling and associated landscaped grounds at 68 Denistone Road, Denistone from any development which would have a negative impact on its heritage significance and its contribution to the surrounding landscape.

This would be achieved by including 68 Denistone Road, Denistone as a Heritage item in Ryde LEP 2014, Schedule 5 Environmental Heritage and including the property in Ryde LEP 2014 Heritage Map.

The property is currently subject to an Interim Heritage Order authorised by Council on 25 September 2018 and notified in the Government Gazette 26 September 2018, which is a temporary measure protecting a potential heritage item from demolition while the necessary investigations are carried out to determine its heritage significance.

An experienced heritage consultant was subsequently engaged by Council to undertake a heritage assessment of the property in accordance with NSW Heritage Office guidelines. The assessment concludes that the property at 68 Denistone Road has heritage significance and merits inclusion in Ryde LEP 2014, Schedule 5 Environmental Heritage and in the Ryde LEP 2014 Heritage Map.

This Planning Proposal is in alignment with all relevant strategic plans, including the Greater Sydney Commission's Our Greater Sydney 2056: Metropolis of Three Cities (Updated March 2018) and Our Greater Sydney 2056: North District Plan (March 2018), and City of Ryde's The City of Ryde 2028 Community Strategic Plan and The City of Ryde Local Planning Study 2010.

1. Introduction

This Planning Proposal has been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (in particular section 3.33) and relevant guidelines produced by the Department of Planning and Environment. It explains the intended effect of a proposed amendment to the Ryde Local Environmental Plan (LEP) 2014 and sets out the justification for making that amendment.

The Department of Planning and Environment requires a Planning Proposal to contain the following information:

Section 3.33 Part 2 states:

The Planning Proposal is to include the following:

- (a) a statement of the objectives or intended outcomes of the proposed instrument, (see 2.0)*
- (b) an explanation of the provisions that are to be included in the proposed instrument, (see 3.0)*
- (c) the justification for those objectives, outcomes and provisions and the process for their implementation (including whether the proposed instrument will give effect to the local strategic planning statement of the council of the area and will comply with relevant directions under section 9.1), (see 4.0)*
- (d) if maps are to be adopted by the proposed instrument, such as maps for proposed land use zones; heritage areas; flood prone land—a version of the maps containing sufficient detail to indicate the substantive effect of the proposed instrument, (see 5.0)*
- (e) details of the community consultation that is to be undertaken before consideration is given to the making of the proposed instrument. (see 6.0)*

1.1 Planning Proposal

This Planning Proposal aims to amend the existing Ryde LEP 2014 to:

- Conserve and protect the heritage of the built environment of the property to which this plan applies,
- To ensure that any new development on the land does not adversely affect the heritage significance of the building(s) and their setting and
- Include the property 68 Denistone Road, Denistone in LEP 2014 as a Heritage Item in Schedule 5 Environmental Heritage and on the Heritage Map

1.2 Site Description

1.5 Background

Ryde Heritage Study 2010 was commenced in 2003 and approximately 71 properties were identified and recommended for heritage listing, together with amendments to existing heritage listings. On 17 August 2010, Council considered the Draft Ryde Heritage Study 2010, and resolved not to pursue the heritage listing of any property unless the land owner applied for a heritage listing.

As a result of the Ryde Heritage Study 2010, 14 items were heritage listed including 3 dwellings, 2 public buildings and 9 stone markers. Since 2010, a study of the 57 buildings that were recommended but not listed reveals that:

- 1 has been significantly damaged by fire and is beyond salvageable repair,
- 9 have been demolished or consent granted for demolition, and
- Several have been the subject of DAs for alterations and additions.

68 Denistone Road, Denistone is not listed as an item of heritage significance under the provisions of Ryde Local Environmental Plan 2014, nor was it identified as part of the Ryde Heritage Study 2010. Council did receive correspondence requesting heritage consideration for the property when it appeared on the market in February 2018.

A Local Development Application (LDA) was received by Council on the 28 August 2018 to consolidate the existing 3 lots at 68 Denistone Road, Denistone, and subdivide them into 2 new lots. The LDA does not explicitly propose demolition of the existing dwelling, but is accompanied by an indicative site plan which shows the Applicant's redevelopment intentions (including the construction of a duplex and triplex that would be subject to future development applications). Council received six submissions during the notification period for this LDA, all of which cited heritage value as their primary concern for the property.

In response Council, on 25 September 2018, resolved:

That Council delegate the General Manager to place an Interim Heritage Order over 68 Denistone Road, Denistone; and

- (i) Prepare a Planning Proposal to list the property as an item of local heritage significance within Schedule 5 Environmental Heritage of Ryde Local Environmental Plan 2014, and*
- (ii) That the Planning Proposal seeking heritage listing of 68 Denistone Road, Denistone be forwarded to the Department of Planning and Environment with a request for a Gateway Determination, and*
- (iii) That upon receipt of the Gateway Determination, the General Manager place the Planning Proposal on Community Comment, in accordance with the conditions of the Gateway Determination.*
- (iv) That a report on the outcomes of community consultation be presented to Council as soon as practicable.*

An IHO is a temporary heritage protection measure against the demolition of a potential heritage item. It also provides time to assess the heritage significance of a potential item and take the appropriate steps to list the item if warranted. The legal effect of an IHO made by a Local Council is that approval is required for any development for the life of the order and demolition is prohibited during that period. One of the key requirements for Council imposing an IHO over a property is that it must consider the property is being or is likely to be harmed.

Interim Heritage Order No. 4 (IHO) which relates to the subject property (68 Denistone Road, Denistone) was published in the Government Gazette No.99 dated Wednesday, 26 September 2018. (See attachment 2)

An experienced heritage consultant was subsequently engaged by Council to undertake a heritage assessment of the property. The study concludes that the property at 68 Denistone Road has heritage significance as follows:

The house Lanark Brae at 68 Denistone Road (corner Florence Avenue), Denistone is of local historical significance as evidence of the suburban subdivision of the 19th century Denistone Estate, specifically the development of the Denistone Estate Subdivision No. 2, lots of which were offered for sale from December 1914, and of the operation of a building covenant on the land.

The house and property are of local aesthetic significance, as the house is a finely detailed, substantial representative example of the Inter-war California Bungalow style, built within the core period for this house style, on a large prominent corner site within a garden setting which retains significant inter-war period garden features including three palm trees, and brick and stone edging to paths and garden beds. The house is remarkably intact and features distinctive exterior elements of the style including leadlight timber-framed casement windows, bay windows, return verandah and a small eastern verandah, dark face brickwork, terracotta tiled hipped and gabled roof, gable ends featuring timber shingling and imitation half timbering, brick verandah balustrades with timber posts above, and distinctive internal elements of the style including timber fretwork frieze and timber pilasters between main hallway and lounge/dining area, tiled fireplaces with timber mantelpieces to formal rooms, timber paneled doors, timber floors and decorative plaster ceilings.

The house and property are rare at a local level as a substantial Inter-war California Bungalow style house on a prominent corner property retaining a substantial garden setting including interwar period garden features.

The heritage study recommends that the City of Ryde Council proceed with the process of heritage listing the site by amending the Ryde LEP 2014 to include the site as a heritage item under Schedule 5 Part 1: Heritage Items of the Ryde LEP 2014 (See attachment 4)

2.0 Objectives and Intended Outcomes

This part of the Planning Proposal responds to Section 3.33 (2a) of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979, which requires an explanation of what is planned to be achieved by the proposed amendments to the Ryde LEP 2014.

This Planning Proposal seeks to amend RLEP 2014 by including the property 68 Denistone Road, Denistone as a Heritage item in Schedule 5 Environmental Heritage and including the property in Ryde LEP 2014 Heritage Map

The intended outcome of the Planning Proposal is:

- To ensure the protection of the dwelling and associated grounds 68 Denistone Road, Denistone from any development which could adversely affect the heritage significance of the property, and
- To preserve the contribution this site provides to the environmental heritage of Ryde
- To permit future use and development of this property consistent with the cultural significance of the item.

3.0 Explanation of Provisions

The Planning Proposal seeks to:

- Amend Ryde LEP 2014 Schedule 5 Environmental Heritage - to include the property 68 Denistone Road, Denistone (Lots 1-3 DP 1096437) (see Figure 9)
- Amend Ryde LEP 2014 Heritage Map – to include 68 Denistone Road, Denistone (Lots 1-3 DP 1096437) (see excerpt below)

A draft Schedule 5 Environmental heritage and Draft Heritage Map are included at Attachment 5

4.0 Justification

Section 3.33 (3) of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 enables the Planning Secretary to issue requirements with respect to the preparation of a Planning Proposal.

4.1 Need for the Planning Proposal

Is the Planning Proposal a result of any strategic study or report?

The property is the subject of an Interim Heritage Order published in the Government Gazette No. 99 on Wednesday 26 September 2018.

A consultant was subsequently engaged by Council to provide a detailed heritage assessment of the house and site. The findings of this study identify this property as a rare California Bungalow style residence in Denistone. The study indicates that it is of local historical and aesthetic significance, is remarkably intact and finely detailed, and exhibits a substantial degree of integrity.

The study concludes that 68 Denistone Road Denistone warrants heritage listing under the provisions of Ryde LEP 2014 in order to protect its heritage significance.

Is the Planning Proposal the best means of achieving the objectives or intended outcomes?

This Planning Proposal represents the only means of ensuring the heritage significance of the site. This will ensure that the site is recognised and protected from development that may adversely affect the significance of the site and its contribution to the environmental heritage of the City of Ryde.

4.2 Relationship to strategic planning framework

Is the Planning Proposal consistent with the objectives and actions of the applicable regional or sub-regional strategy (including the Sydney Metropolitan Strategy and exhibited draft strategies)?

The strategic planning context for the consideration of this Planning Proposal includes:

Our Greater Sydney 2056 – North District Plan (March 2018)

The North District Plan (NDP) is the Greater Sydney Commission's plan for priorities and actions for growth and development of the Northern District. The Greater Sydney's North District includes the local government areas of Hornsby, Hunters Hill, Ku-ring-gai, Lane Cove, Northern Beaches, Mosman, North Sydney, City of Ryde and Willoughby.

The NDP provides the means by which the Greater Sydney Region Plan (A Metropolis of Three Cities (March 2018 Updated)) can be implemented on a local level, by providing opportunities, priorities and actionable growth and development opportunities for the North District. This Planning Proposal supports the following Planning Priority in the retention and renewing of local heritage:

Planning Priority N6 – “Creating and renewing great places and local centres, and respecting the District’s heritage”

This planning priority promotes local heritage as an important component of local identity that creates a distinctive built character. The NDP states that “Identifying, conserving, interpreting and celebrating Greater Sydney’s heritage values leads to a better understanding of history and respect for the experiences of diverse communities. Heritage identification, management and interpretation are required so that heritage places and stories can be experienced by current and future generations.” (NDP, p49)

The heritage study attached to this Planning Proposal confirms the importance of 68 Denistone Road, Denistone as a place of heritage significance. The listing of this property under the Ryde LEP 2014 Schedule 5 Part 1 will ensure that future generations can appreciate the unique aesthetic significance of this property, which supports Planning Priority N6 as a property that respects the District's heritage and can retain character of Denistone and the local centres in the City of Ryde.

Thus, the recognition and protection of 68 Denistone Road, Denistone as containing a building and grounds which are representative of dwellings during the inter-war period and contribute to the heritage of the City of Ryde, supports the Goals and Directions of Our Greater Sydney 2056 North District Plan (March 2018).

Is the Planning Proposal consistent with the local council's local strategy, or other local strategic plan?

City of Ryde Strategic Plans:

1. The City of Ryde 2028 Community Strategic Plan

The Community Strategic Plan sets out the future vision for the City of Ryde. The plans set the desired outcomes and the aspirations of the community, and the goals and strategies on how they will be achieved. The seven outcomes for the City of Ryde are;

- Our vibrant and liveable city
- Our active and healthy city
- Our natural and sustainable city
- Our smart and innovative city
- Our connected and accessible city
- Our diverse and inclusive city
- Our open and progressive city

The Planning Proposal is in line with the goals and strategies of the Community Strategic Plan 2028. It speaks to both outcome one: Our Vibrant and Liveable City; and to outcome six: Our Diverse and Inclusive City.

Outcome one describes a city “designed with a strong sense of identity and place” (p16), relates the community’s desire to “protect and maintain Ryde’s character and heritage” (p17), and includes goals to “uphold and protect its unique character” (p17). The Planning Proposal responds to this vision by creating a legislative protection against character-damaging redevelopment of the Denistone area and streetscape.

Outcome six describes a city with a “rich social, cultural, historical and creative tapestry [which] provides an enduring legacy for future generations” (p26) and “a distinct local identity built on our city’s character and rich cultural heritage” (p27). The Planning Proposal responds to this vision by protecting key elements of the landscape which contribute to Ryde’s historical and cultural legacy.

2. The City of Ryde Local Planning Study (December 2010)

Council adopted the Ryde Local Planning Study (December 2010) in response to the NSW Government’s Metropolitan Strategy and draft Inner North Draft Subregional Strategy to outline a vision for development of Ryde over the next 20 years. The Local Planning Study was the basis for the preparation of the Ryde LEP 2014. One of the aims of Ryde LEP 2014 that was derived from the Local Planning Study was:

(d) to identify, conserve and promote Ryde’s natural and cultural heritage as the framework for its identity, prosperity, liveability and social development, (Ryde LEP 2014 Clause 1.2(d))

The Planning Proposal is consistent with both the Study and Ryde LEP 2014.

Is there a net community benefit?

The Planning Proposal will facilitate the retention of an item of local heritage significance that contributes to the character and identity of the City of Ryde and will assist to connect the local community to place. The item illustrates the history and development of Ryde.

The inclusion of 68 Denistone Road, Denistone in Ryde LEP 2014 Schedule 5 Environmental Heritage will enable Council to ensure;

- The protection of local heritage significance to the City of Ryde from any development that would adversely impact on the heritage value of the buildings and grounds.

The above outcome of the proposal is considered to be in the public's interest and responds to demonstrable community interest.

Is the Planning Proposal consistent with applicable state environmental planning policies?

A summary assessment of the Planning Proposal in terms of State Environmental Planning Policies is contained in the table below (Table 1).

This assessment indicates that the draft LEP contained in this Planning Proposal is consistent with all relevant State Environmental Planning Policies

Is the Planning Proposal consistent with applicable Ministerial Directions (Section 9.1)?

A summary assessment of the Planning Proposal in terms of the Directions issued by the Minister for Planning under section 9.1 of the EP&A Act is set out in Table 2.

The following is a list of Directions issued by the Minister for Planning to relevant planning authorities under section 9.1 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979. These directions apply to Planning Proposals lodged with the Department of Planning on or after the date the particular direction was issued:

On 27 September 2018, the Minister for Planning gave an additional direction under 9.1 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 with the objective of identifying the types of Planning Proposal that are to be advised on by Local Planning Panels on behalf of councils in the Greater Sydney Region and Wollongong and to establish the procedures in relation to those matters. This Direction is relevant to this Planning Proposal, and the proposal will be referred to the Ryde Local Planning Panel in early 2019 and prior to Council considering the outcomes of community consultation.

4.3 Environmental, social and economic impacts

Impact on Critical Habitat, Threatened Species and Ecological Communities

The land is situated in a suburban context and is currently used as a dwelling house. The wider area has historically been developed for low density residential housing within an urban context.

The Planning Proposal will not affect any critical habitat, threatened species, populations, ecological communities, or their habitats nor is it expected to have any adverse environmental effects.

Are there any other likely environmental effects as a result of the Planning Proposal and how are they proposed to be managed?

Environmental effects

The subject site is not subject to flooding, bushfire hazard, soil instability, or noise impact. Furthermore, the property does not contain habitat, threatened species populations, ecological communities, or their habitats.

Therefore, this Planning Proposal is not expected to have any adverse environmental effects.

Heritage

The Planning Proposal aims to list the property 68 Denistone Road, Denistone as a heritage item within the Ryde LEP 2014, so that the property will be protected through Clause 5.10 Heritage conservation of LEP 2014 from work that would adversely affect the heritage significance of the site. This will result in a positive impact on the built environment and protection against damage to its character.

Has the Planning Proposal adequately addressed any social and economic effects?

The Planning Proposal will have a positive impact on the social fabric of Ryde by ensuring that the streetscape maintains a strong sense of place and illustrates local cultural and developmental history. The impact of the listing on the value of the property is not known. The listing is not expected to impact on the viability of the area as a residential suburb.

4.4 State and Commonwealth Interests

Is there adequate public infrastructure for the planning proposed?

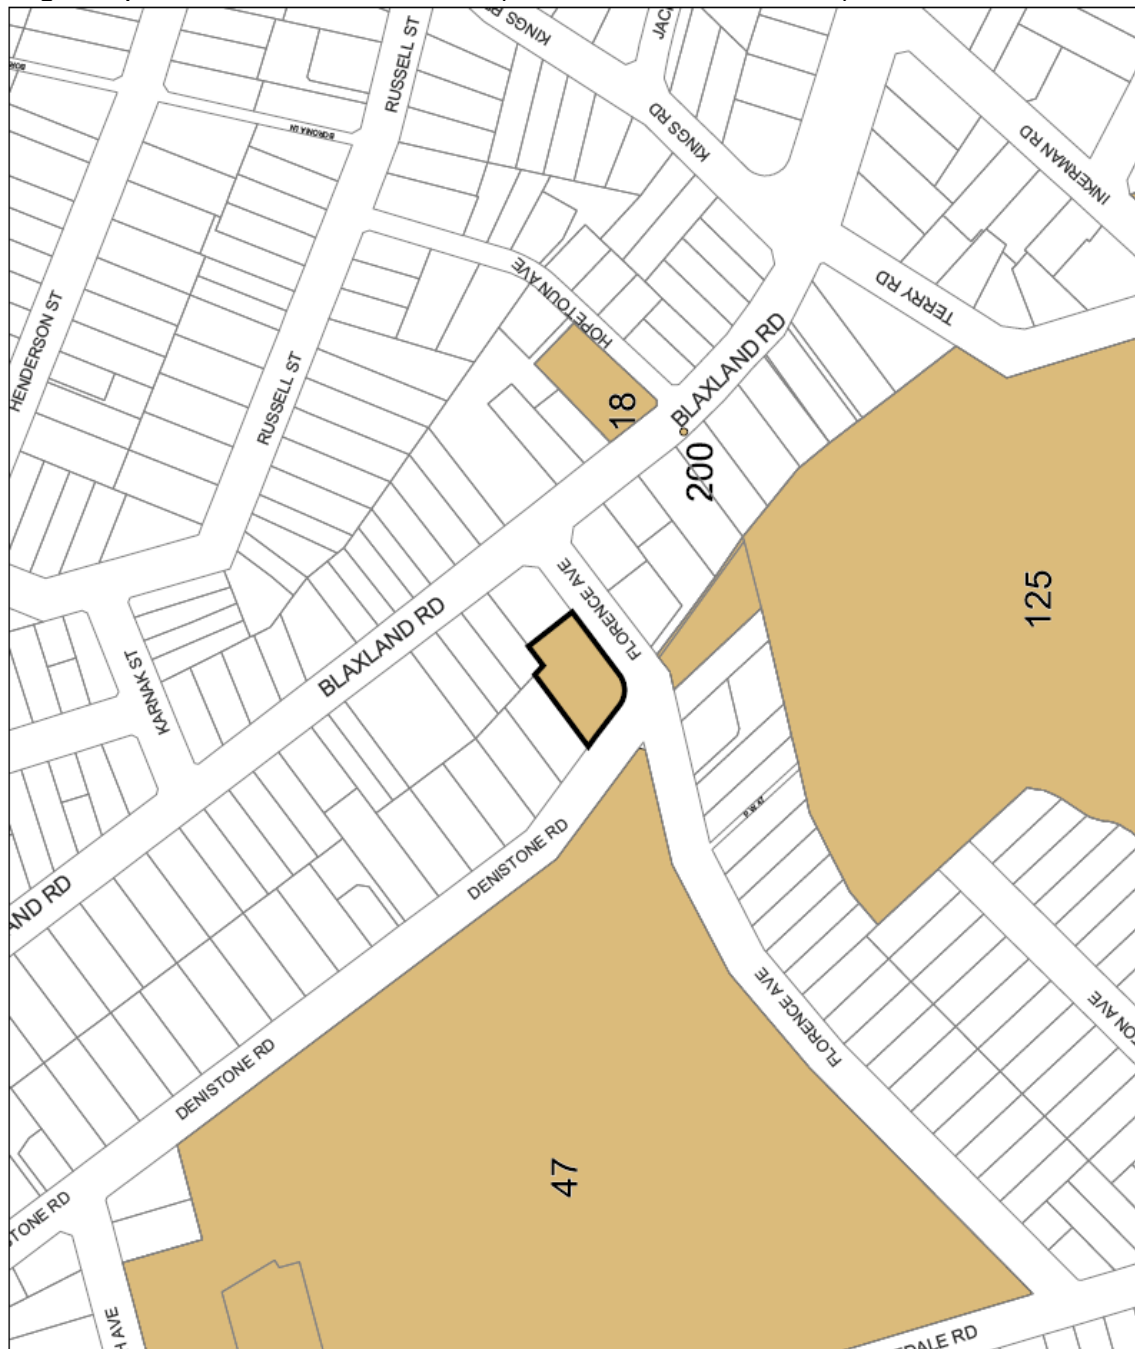

There is extensive public utility service infrastructure available in this area which supports the existing residential use of the site and the surrounding development.

What are the views of State and Commonwealth public authorities consulted in accordance with the Gateway determination?

Any State or Commonwealth authority that is identified in the Gateway determination as needing to be consulted will be consulted following that determination.

5.0 Mapping

Proposed Draft Ryde LEP 2014 Heritage Map, indicating the proposed amendment being sought is provided in Attachment 5. (Preview included below)

6.0 Community Consultation

This section provides details of the community consultation that is to be undertaken on the Planning Proposal:

The community consultation process for this Planning Proposal will be undertaken in accordance with the conditions of a Gateway Determination, should it be issued.

It is anticipated that consultation will be for a 28 day period as follows:

- Written notice given
 - o In the local newspaper circulating in the area
 - o On Council's webpage
 - o To affected landowners
 - o To local state government representatives
 - o State and Commonwealth authorities as required
- The written notice will
 - o Provide a brief description of the objectives and intended outcomes of the Planning Proposal,
 - o Indicate the land affected,
 - o State where the Planning Proposal can be inspected,
 - o Indicate the last date for submissions and
 - o Confirm whether the Minister has chosen to delegate the making of the LEP
- The following materials will be placed on exhibition
 - o The Planning Proposal and supporting documents
 - o The Gateway Determination

COUNCIL NOTICES

COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF RYDE

HERITAGE ACT 1977

INTERIM HERITAGE ORDER NO. 4

Under Section 25 of the Heritage Act 1977, the Council of the City of Ryde does by this order:

- (1) make an interim heritage order to cover the item of the environmental heritage specified or described in Schedule “A”; and
- (2) declares that the Interim Heritage Order shall apply to the curtilage or site of such an item, being the land described in Schedule “B”.

Schedule “A”

All landscaping, works, relics and buildings that are attached to, located upon or form part of the land described in Schedule B.

Schedule “B”

All that parcel of land known as Lot 1 DP 1096437, Lot 2 DP 1096437 & Lot 3 DP 1096437 (also known as 68 Denistone Road, Denistone 2114) shown edged heavy black on the plan catalogued Interim Heritage Order No.4 in the office of the Council of the City of Ryde.

Condition

This Interim Heritage Order will lapse six months from the date that it is made unless the local council has passed a resolution before that date; and

- (i) in the case of an item which, in the council’s opinion, is of local significance, the resolution seeks to place the item on the heritage schedule of a local environmental plan with appropriate provisions for protecting and managing the item; or
- (ii) In the case of an item which, in the Council’s opinion, is of State heritage significance, the resolution requests the Heritage Council to make a recommendation to the Minister for Heritage under section 32(2) of the Heritage Act to include the item on the State Heritage Register.

Executed this 26th day of September 2018 at North Ryde in the State of New South Wales, for and on behalf of the Council of the City of Ryde by GEORGE DEDES, General Manager, in accordance with his delegated authority under Section 377 of the Local Government Act 1993.

REPORT SUMMARY

Council on the 28 August 2018 received a Local Development Application (LDA) for the consolidation of the 3 existing lots and subdivision to create 2 lots at 68 Denistone Road, Denistone (LDA2018/340).

The LDA was available for community comment between 3 September and 19 September 2018. Council received six (6) submissions during the notification period, all objected to the development raising heritage as a concern, five (5) submissions specifically refer to the heritage of the building, and one (1) refers more generally to the heritage of the area. Council also received correspondence prior to the lodgement of the Development Application, prompted by the sale of the property in February 2018. The correspondence requested consideration be given to listing.

Council, dated 25 September 2018, submitted on 25 September 2018.

Background

68 Denistone Road, Denistone is not listed as an item of heritage significance under the provisions of Ryde Local Environmental Plan 2014.

Whilst demolition of the dwelling at 68 Denistone Road, Denistone is not proposed as part of the present LDA, the application is accompanied by an indicative site plan which shows the Applicant's demolition and redevelopment intentions (the construction of a duplex and triplex that would be subject to future applications).

Council's Heritage Advisor has undertaken a preliminary assessment of the property and considers 68 Denistone Road, Denistone, to have cultural heritage significance and to be a good representative example of an Inter-War Californian Bungalow. The dwelling displays a high degree of design integrity and is significantly enhanced by its established landscaped garden setting, which contains a number of significant landscape features and comprises the heritage curtilage. The interior of the dwelling also displays a remarkably high degree of integrity with many fine features. It is also one of the more prominent dwellings in the streetscape.

Given that this property is considered to have local heritage significance and is under imminent threat of harm through demolition, it is prudent that Council resolve to follow the necessary process to impose an Interim Heritage Order (IHO) over the property.

Interim Heritage Order (IHO)

An IHO is a temporary heritage protection measure against the demolition of a potential heritage item. It also provides Council with the time to further assess the heritage significance of a potential item and take the appropriate steps to list the item if warranted.

The legal effect of an IHO made by a Local Council is that approval is required for any development for the life of the order and demolition is prohibited during that period.

One of the key requirements for Council imposing an IHO over a property is that it must consider that the subject property is being or is likely to be harmed. In this case, the lodgement of the Development Application foreshadowing the demolition of the property constitutes a threat of harm.

I am therefore proposing that due to the imminent threat of harm through demolition at 68 Denistone Road, Denistone, that Council delegate the General Manager to impose an IHO.

RECOMMENDATION:

Council, dated 25 September 2018, submitted on 25 September 2018.

That Council delegate the General Manager to place an Interim Heritage Order over 68 Denistone Road, Denistone; and

- (i) Prepare a Planning Proposal to list the property as an item of local heritage significance within Schedule 5 Environmental Heritage of Ryde Local Environmental Plan 2014, and
- (ii) That the Planning Proposal seeking heritage listing of 68 Denistone Road, Denistone be forwarded to the Department of Planning and Environment with a request for a Gateway Determination, and
- (iii) That upon receipt of the Gateway Determination, the General Manager place the Planning Proposal on Community Comment, in accordance with the conditions of the Gateway Determination.
- (iv) That a report on the outcomes of community consultation be presented to Council as soon as practicable.

1.0 INTRODUCTION/BACKGROUND

1.1. THE BRIEF

The property at 68 Denistone Road, Denistone, is the subject of a Local development application (LDA) to consolidate the existing 3 allotments on the property and subdivide the property into 2 allotments, an application considered to indicate a future threat to the existing house on the property.

City of Ryde Council resolved to place an Interim Heritage Order (IHO) on the property on 25 September 2018, which took effect on 26 September 2018.

This heritage assessment report has been prepared on behalf of City of Ryde Council to assess the heritage significance of the property at 68 Denistone Road, Denistone, and guide Council as to future actions with regard to the Interim Heritage Order.

1.2. APPROACH AND METHODOLOGY

The methodology used in this report is in accordance with the guidelines of the NSW Heritage Manual and in accordance with the latest version of The NSW Heritage Division, Office of Environment & Heritage (OEH) Assessing Heritage Significance guidelines. This report is also in accordance with the principles and definitions set out in the Australia ICOMOS Burra Charter 2013 and its Practice Notes.

1.3. LIMITATIONS

The site was visited by Wendy Crane, Graduate Architect, of Paul Davies Pty Ltd on 14 November 2018. The subject site was inspected, and the exterior of the house photographed. All photographs in this report were taken on 14 November 2018 by Wendy Crane, Graduate Architect of Paul Davies Pty Ltd unless otherwise captioned. For the interior, real estate photographs taken for advertisements for the sale of the house around January 2018 have been utilised, along with photos taken during the site visit, taken from the exterior through windows (captioned accordingly). Note that damage to the interior shown on the site visit photos is a result of illegal building work to the house which occurred prior to the imposition of the IHO on the property.

The historical background in this report has been thoroughly researched by professional historian Dr. Anne-Maree Whitaker from a mix of primary (e.g. Sand's Directory, Lands Titles) and secondary sources, and is considered to be a detailed history sufficient to provide the basis for heritage significance analysis of the place.

1.4. AUTHOR IDENTIFICATION

This report was prepared by Paul Davies Pty Ltd, Architects and Heritage Consultants, 180 Darling St Balmain NSW 2041.

This report was authored by Chery Kemp, Heritage Specialist, with historical research undertaken and history written by Dr. Anne-Maree Whitaker, Historian sub-consultant.

1.5. ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Angela Phippen, Local Studies & Family History Librarian, City of Ryde, is acknowledged for her assistance with historical research for this report.

1.6. DEFINITIONS

For the purposes of this report

Local	Refers to City of Ryde Council
State	refers to New South Wales

The following definitions used in this report and are from Article 1: Definitions of The Burra Charter 2013, the Australian ICOMOS Charter for the Conservation of Places of Cultural Significance.

Place	means a geographically defined area. It may include elements, objects, spaces and views. Place may have tangible and intangible dimensions.
Cultural significance	means aesthetic, historic, scientific, social or spiritual value for past, present or future generations. Cultural significance is embodied in the place itself, its fabric , setting , use , associations , meanings , records, related places and related objects . Places may have a range of values for different individuals or groups.
Fabric	means all the physical material of the place including elements, fixtures, contents and objects.
Conservation	means all the processes of looking after a place so as to retain its cultural significance .
Maintenance	means the continuous protective care of a place , and its setting . Maintenance is to be distinguished from repair which involves restoration or reconstruction .
Preservation	means maintaining a place in its existing state and retarding deterioration.
Restoration	means returning a place to a known earlier state by removing accretions or by reassembling existing elements without the introduction of new material.
Reconstruction	means returning a place to a known earlier state and is distinguished from restoration by the introduction of new material.
Adaptation	means changing a place to suit the existing use or a proposed use.
Use	means the functions of a place , including the activities and traditional and customary practices that may occur at the place or are dependent on the place.
Compatible use	means a use which respects the cultural significance of a place . Such a use involves no, or minimal, impact on cultural significance.
Setting	means the immediate and extended environment of a place that is part of or contributes to its cultural significance and distinctive character.
Related Place	means a place that contributes to the cultural significance of another place.
Related object	means an object that contributes to the cultural significance of a place but is not at the place.
Associations	mean the connections that exist between people and a place.
Meanings	denote what a place signifies, indicates, evokes or expresses to people.
Interpretation	means all the ways of presenting the cultural significance of a place.

1.7. SITE LOCATION

The site at 68 Denistone Road, Denistone is located on the eastern side of Denison Road, on the north-eastern corner of the Denison Road and Florence Avenue intersection, west of Blaxland Road, and opposite the Ryde Ambulance Station. The real property details are outlined in Table 1 below. The property encompasses three separate allotments within the same DP (see Table 1 below), with the house being located on Lot 2.

2.0 HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

2.1. INDIGENOUS HISTORY

The geology of this region is Hawkesbury sandstone and the Wianamatta group of sedimentary rocks, predominantly Ashfield shale. The area lies between the Parramatta and Lane Cove Rivers, a plateau which slopes gradually southward from an east-west ridge. The Lane Cove River banks are dominated by sandstone bluffs and steep rocky hillsides, while the Parramatta River is less steep and characterised by mudflats and bays. This district between the rivers was the home of the Wallumede Indigenous people, and at the time of the arrival of the First Fleet in 1788 was a significant population centre. Prominent indigenous residents of the area included Bennelong and his kinsman Bidjee Bidjee. By 1797 the Aboriginal community of the Lane Cove valley was reported to be actively resisting the new settlers and was responsible for burning a house and killing some hogs. 'Native raiders' were mentioned again in 1804 and 1809, but there are no later references to Aborigines living in the area. Around 40 Aboriginal sites have been recorded in the Lane Cove National Park including shelters, cave art, rock engravings, middens and grinding grooves.³

2.2. DENISTONE AREA HISTORY

The site of 68 Denistone Road is part of a land grant known as 'Porteous Mount' issued on 22 July 1795 to John Varnice, Humphrey Evans and William Ternan. Varnice was granted 45 acres (18.2 hectares), Evans 45 acres and Ternan 30 acres (12.1 hectares), but the grants totalling 120 acres (48.5 hectares) were not subdivided (see Figure 5 below).

Just on a month later, on 24 August 1795, the colony's chaplain the Reverend Richard Johnson acquired the property. On 7 March 1800, Johnson sold it to Michael Connor, who transferred to Roger Connor on 12 June 1816.⁴

⁴ Angela Phippen, 'Denistone', Dictionary of Sydney online.

The house was burned down by bushfires on 30 December 1854:

The fire at this place ['The Hermitage'] being partially subsided, attention was attracted by the awful conflagration which was going on at the estate of Dennison, the property of Mr. Blaxland and residence of Mr. M'Culloch, solicitor; here the destruction of property was considerable, and, in a word, with the exception of a few articles of furniture which was saved, the bare walls of that once fine house are all that is to be seen.⁶

Deniston Estate was purchased by Richard Rouse Terry on 9 December 1872. Terry was the grandson of the 'Botany Bay Rothschild' Samuel Terry and of Richard Rouse who gave his name to Rouse Hill.⁷ RR Terry built the present two-storey sandstone Denistone House and resided there for many years after its completion in 1874 (see Figures 6 and 7 below). The property, comprising 140 acres, was brought under Torrens title in 1884.⁸ After Terry's death in 1898, ownership passed to his son John Edgar Terry, accountant of Sydney, and son-in-law Frank David Muller, gentleman of Sydney.⁹

In November 1913 it was reported that the first of three subdivisions of the Denistone Estate into 169 quarter-acre blocks would be offered for sale. Also in 1913, 6.8 hectares of the estate, including Denistone House, was purchased by the New South Wales Government for use as a convalescent hospital for men, complementing the Carrara convalescent hospital for women at Vacluse. Patients began moving into the hospital in August 1914 although it was not officially opened until 25 February 1915. The site later grew into the Ryde District Soldiers' Memorial Hospital which opened on 12 May 1934 with 56 beds, with Denistone House converted into the nurses' quarters. The house was later used for a maternity ward.¹⁰

The second subdivision of the Denistone Estate, including the current 68 Denistone Road, was offered for sale between August and November 1914¹¹ (see Figure 8 below). While many lots were sold in 1914 and 1915, the current 68 Denistone Road site was not sold until its purchase by Christina Ann Jones, widow, on 15 November 1917.¹²

2.3. SITE HISTORY

Mrs Christina Ann Jones was the widow of the Reverend Henry Jones, a Methodist minister who had served in New South Wales and Queensland in a long career, before dying in 1910 at the age of 61.¹³ Mrs Jones was born in Ryde in 1853, the daughter of Andrew and Janet Short.¹⁴ After her husband's death their only child, Henry Spencer Jones, enlisted in World War I and returned after service in France. During his absence overseas Mrs Jones moved in with her relatives at Clyde Cottage, North Road, Ryde.¹⁵ When Mrs Jones bought the land now known as 68 Denistone Road, there was a covenant on the property requiring the erection of a building worth at least £300.¹⁶

Historical records indicate the house at 68 Denistone Road was built in 1920. Mrs Jones sold her previous home at 36 Wisdom Road, Greenwich on 6 November 1916 to Walter Berry, grazier, retaining a mortgage over the property.¹⁷ Her address was amended to Clyde Cottage on 1 November 1916 on her son's war record.¹⁸ After her son's return from the war in 1919 the mortgage on her previous home in Greenwich was discharged on 7 February 1920.¹⁹ Henry Spencer Jones married Margaret Kavanagh on 29 April 1920.²⁰

Therefore in 1920 Mrs Jones had received the funds from the sale of her previous home, and her son had returned from the war and married. This provides both the means and motive for the construction of the new house in Denistone. Mrs Jones first appears in the Sands Directory at the Denistone address in 1921. The directory was published in January each year, with entries closing in the first week of the preceding October.²¹ Therefore 68 Denistone Road must have been completed and occupied by early October 1920. Mrs Jones named the house Lanark Brae after her previous marital home in Greenwich.

The first change to the site was in 1919 when a small area of approximately 10 perches was added to the block from the adjoining lot 23.²² This area is now Lot 1 of DP 1096437. Later Mrs Jones bought lot 25 to the north-east on 1 August 1922, then subdivided off a portion of around 10 perches (Lot 2 of DP 1096437) and consolidated the expanded site of 68 Denistone Road on 26 September 1924²³ (see Figure 9 below). The property was then transferred to her son Henry Spencer Jones on 24 October 1924.²⁴

Tenders were called in 1926 by H. Jones for a garage on the Florence Avenue frontage with a price of £40.²⁵ A sewage plan from the 1930s and aerial photograph from 1943 show the house on its expanded block with its garage accessed off Florence Avenue (see Figures 10, 11 and 12 below).

Mrs Christina Jones died in 1934.²⁶ The aerial photo in Figure 12 below shows the house and site in 1943.

Henry Spencer Jones retained the house until 1961 when it was transferred to Olga Blanche Scott, married woman of Eastwood, on 9 November 1961.²⁷

Mrs Scott sold the property on 13 February 1990 for $395,000 to Graeme Lloyd Willis and Doreen Myfanwy Willis as joint tenants.²⁸

Following the death of Mrs Willis in January 2018 the house was sold again, this time for $3,601,000 ²⁹ (see Figure 13 below for a site plan and floor plan of the house from the real estate website in 2018).

3.0 PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION

3.1. SITE AND CONTEXT, SETTING OF THE HOUSE

The site is a prominent large corner site of the corner of Denistone Road and Florence Avenue. The site is surrounded by later low-scale detached residences. The street boundary to Denistone Road is defined by hedging and a modern timber picket front fence.

The house sits within a generous garden setting which retains inter-war period features including three palm trees, and brick and stone garden edging to paths and garden beds.

3.2. THE EXTERIOR OF THE HOUSE

The house Lanark Brae is a single storey dark face brick Inter-war California Bungalow style house located on the north-western corner of Denistone Road and Florence Avenue, featuring a hipped and gabled terracotta tiled roof, simple stuccoed brick chimneys, and timber-framed casement windows and fanlights.

The house features a return verandah on the south and west elevations, returning around the front south-west corner. The verandahs feature timber floors and brick balustrades with pairs of timber posts above. The ceiling to the main return verandah is a plain paneled ceiling, however the ceiling to the eastern verandah is a decorative plaster panel ceiling. There are steps flanked by stuccoed brick dwarf walls onto the return verandah from the south and west. The timber-panelled front door features a leadlight panel and is surrounded by leadlight sidelights and fanlights. The house also features bay windows to the front (south) and western side elevations, and leadlight windows including two small leadlight windows to the eastern elevation to either side of the lounge room fireplace.

The house appears remarkably intact, however evident alterations include:

- Circa 1950s partial verandah enclosure to the western side of the return verandah to form a sunroom. The original western steps onto the verandah at this point have been retained, and the enclosure is lightweight and easily removeable.
- Covered decking to the rear of the house, which appears relatively modern.
- Single storey brick extension to the rear north-western corner of the house to create Bedroom 4/study room. This has been constructed in brickwork to match existing and roofed with terracotta tiling to match existing and is considered to be a sympathetic rear addition to the house.
- The original 1926 garage accessed off Florence Avenue appears to have been replaced with the garage/workshop which now exists, probably in the late 20th century, and a roof installed to connect this building to the rear of the house.

3.3. THE INTERIOR OF THE HOUSE

The interior of the house features fine details typical of its circa 1920 period of construction including paneled plaster ceilings, timber mantelpieces and tiled surrounds to fireplaces, decorative timberwork including timber columns and a fretwork frieze to define a formal entry from the front hallway into the lounge/dining room area.

4.0 COMPARATIVE ANALYSIS

4.1. BASIS OF COMPARATIVE ANALYSIS

This comparative analysis compares the Inter-war California Bungalow style on the subject site with:

- inter-war period heritage listed brick houses within the City of Ryde LGA, dating from the period 1920-1935, and
- Inter-war period brick houses within two Ryde LGA Heritage Conservation Areas (Eastwood House Estate HCA 4 and Maxim Street West Ryde HCA 2).

4.3. CONCLUSION OF COMPARATIVE ANALYSIS

There is only one comparative Inter-war California Bungalow heritage listed in the Ryde LEP 2014, being “Wallington” in West Ryde, however 2 other Inter-war California Bungalows within the Ryde LGA have been listed on the RMS Section 170 register, though not in the LEP heritage schedule. Two of the heritage listed comparative examples are also on corner sites, as is the subject house.

The LEP listed house “Wallington” and the RMS listed house at 64 Tarrants Avenue Eastwood appear to be less substantial and less finely detailed houses than the subject house at 68 Denistone Road.

The RMS listed house at 8 Rutledge Street (corner Trelawney Street) Eastwood, appears to be of a similar size to the subject house, however that house was described in its SHI form as a Federation Bungalow style house (though it also shows the influence of the Inter-war California Bungalow style - in particular in its gabled roof form with gable ends facing both street frontages), and to stylistic differences, is not directly comparable to the subject house at 68 Denistone Road, though it is similar in size, quality of detail, and corner location.

In relation to “Wallington”, 16 Miriam Road, West Ryde, the only Inter-war California Bungalow style house currently heritage listed in the Ryde LEP 2014, it is notable that the historical significance of “Wallington” relates to its being “part of the 1st subdivision of the Darvall Estate, evidence of a building covenant & early development of West Ryde, fine example of an Inter-war Bungalow style dwelling in a garden setting.”³⁰ This is similar to the situation with the subject house in relation to historical significance, as the subject house was part of the Denistone Estate Subdivision No. 2 and the site as part of that subdivision was subject to a covenant requiring the erection of a building worth at least £300, and the subject house is considered to be a substantial, finely detailed example of an Inter-war California Bungalow style dwelling in a garden setting.

In relation to the Inter-war California Bungalows within the two HCAs examined in Table 2 above, these range from modest to occasional more substantial examples such as 35 Maxim Street, West Ryde (also a corner property). However, the house at 35 Maxim Street is, again, not as finely detailed as the subject house at 68 Denistone Road, Denistone, which features a return verandah and gable ends to the south and west.

In conclusion, it is considered that the house at 68 Denistone Road, Denistone is rare within the Ryde LGA as a substantial, finely detailed Inter-war California Bungalow style house, which provides evidence of an early subdivision and operation of a covenant on the site, similar to the significance of the only other building of the same style currently listed in the Ryde LEP 2014, “Wallington” at 16 Miriam Road, West Ryde.

5.0 ASSESSMENT OF HERITAGE SIGNIFICANCE

5.1. CRITERIA FOR ASSESSING CULTURAL HERITAGE SIGNIFICANCE

The NSW Heritage Manual (1996, amended 2001) in the Assessing heritage significance section sets out the basis for assessment of the heritage significance of an item, place or site by evaluating its significance in reference to specific criteria. These criteria can be applied at national, state or local levels of significance.

The criteria used are:

Criterion (a) Historical significance

The item is important in the course of, or pattern of New South Wales' cultural or natural history (State significance) OR An item is important in the course, or pattern, of the local area's cultural or natural history.

Guidelines for Inclusion:

- Shows evidence of a significant human activity

Not applicable.

- Is associated with a significant activity or cultural phase

Applicable at a local level as the house is evidence of the development of the Denistone Estate Subdivision No. 2 lots of which were for sale from December 1914.

- Maintains or shows the continuity of a historical process or activity

Applicable at a local level as the property illustrates early twentieth century suburban development of the Denistone Estate and evidences the operation of a covenant on the property requiring the erection of a building worth at least £300. The property provides evidence of the suburban subdivision of 19th century estates in the early 20th century in Denistone.

Guidelines for Exclusion:

- Has incidental or unsubstantiated connections with historically important activities or processes

Not relevant. The house is illustrative of early 20th suburban development of the Denistone Estate No. 2 subdivision.

- Provides evidence of activities or processes that are of dubious historical importance

Not relevant. The development of the Denistone Estate subdivisions in the early twentieth are clearly of historical importance to the history of the suburb of Denistone.

- Has been so altered that it can no longer provide evidence of a particular association

Not relevant. The house is remarkably intact and illustrates well its period of construction and history of development of the Denistone Estate No. 2 subdivision.

Types of items which meet criterion (a) include:

- Items which demonstrate strong associations to past customs, cultural practices, philosophies or systems of government, regardless of the intactness of the item or any structure on the place;

Not Applicable.

- Items associated with significant historical events, regardless of the intactness of the item or any structure on the place;

Applicable at a local level as the house is associated with the development of the Denistone Estate No. 2 subdivision, the suburban subdivision of 19th century estates in the early 20th century and the operation of a building covenant on the site.

- Significant cultural landscapes and other items demonstrating overlays of the continual pattern of human use and occupation; and/or

Not Applicable.

- Items where the physical fabric (above or below ground) demonstrates any of the points described above.

Applicable at a local level as the fabric of the house illustrates well its period of construction as a 1920 house built on a lot from the Denistone Estate No. 2 subdivision, which illustrates the early 20th century suburban development of the Denistone Estate subdivisions, and the operation of a building covenant on the site.

Criterion (b) Historical Association

An item has strong or special association with the life or works of a person, or group of persons, of importance in New South Wales' cultural or natural history (State significance) OR

An item has strong or special association with the life or works of a person, or group of persons, of importance in the cultural or natural history of the local area (Local significance).

Guidelines for Inclusion:

- Shows evidence of a significant human occupation

Not Applicable

- Is associated with a significant event, person or group of persons

Not Applicable.

Guidelines for Exclusion:

- Has incidental or unsubstantiated connections with historically important people or events

Not Applicable (no association with historically important people or events).

- Provides evidence of people or events that are of dubious historical importance

Not relevant (no association with historically important people or events).

- Has been so altered that it can no longer provide evidence of a particular association.

Not relevant (no association with historically important people or events).

Types of items which meet this criterion include:

- Items which demonstrate strong associations to a particular event, historical theme, people or philosophies, regardless of the intactness of the item or any of its structures;

Not Applicable (no association with historically important people or events).

- Items associated with significant historical events, regardless of the intactness of the item or any structure on the place; and/or

Not Applicable (no association with historically important people or events).

- Items where the physical fabric (above or below ground) demonstrates any of the points described above.

Not Applicable (no association with historically important people or events).

Criterion (c) Aesthetic/Technical significance

An item is important in demonstrating aesthetic characteristics and/or a high degree of creative or technical achievement in New South Wales (State significance); OR

An item is important in demonstrating aesthetic characteristics and/or a high degree of creative or technical achievement in the local area (Local significance).

Guidelines for Inclusion:

- Shows or is associated with, creative or technical innovation or achievement

Not Applicable (as the house is a fine but typical Inter-war California Bungalow style house, built within the core period for this house style)

- Is the inspiration for a creative or technical innovation or achievement

Not Applicable (as the house is a fine but typical Inter-war California Bungalow style house, built within the core period for this house style)

- Is aesthetically distinctive

Applicable at a local level, as the Inter-war California Bungalow style house at 68 Denistone Road is a substantial, finely detailed house of the style, on a large prominent corner site within a garden setting.

- Has landmark qualities

Applicable at a local level due to the prominent corner location of the house.

- Exemplifies a particular taste, style or technology.

Applicable at a local level, as the house at 68 Denistone Road is a fine representative example of the Inter-war California Bungalow style. The house is remarkably intact and features distinctive exterior elements of the style including leadlight timber-framed casement windows, bay windows, return verandah and a small eastern verandah, dark face brickwork, terracotta hipped and gabled roof, gable ends featuring timber shingling and imitation half timbering, brick verandah balustrades with timber posts above, and distinctive internal elements of the style including timber fretwork frieze and timber pilasters between main hallway and lounge/dining area, tiled fireplaces with timber mantelpieces to formal rooms, timber paneled doors, timber floor and decorative plaster ceilings.

Guidelines for Exclusion:

- Is not a major work by an important designer or artist

Applicable, as there is no known association with any architect or designer.

- Has lost its design or technical integrity

Not Applicable. The house at 68 Denistone Road is substantially intact and retains its design integrity.

- Its positive visual or sensory appeal or landmark and scenic qualities have been more than temporarily degraded

- Has only a loose association with a creative or technical achievement.

Not relevant (as the house is a fine but typical Inter-war California Bungalow style house, built within the core period for this house style)

Types of items which meet this criterion include:

- Items which demonstrate creative or technical excellence, innovation or achievement;

Not Applicable, as the house is a typical, if fine, representative example of its style.

- Items which have been the inspiration for creative or technical achievement;

Not Applicable (see above).

- Items which demonstrate a highly original and influential style, such as an important early (seminal) work of a major architect; and/or

Not Applicable (no known association with any architect or designer).

- Items which demonstrate the culmination of a particular architectural style (known as climactic).

Applicable at a local level as the house at 68 Denistone Road is a fine representative example of the Inter-war California Bungalow style.

Criterion (d) Social significance

An item has strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group in New South Wales for social, cultural or spiritual reasons (State significance) OR

An item has strong or special association with a particular community or cultural group in the area for social, cultural, or spiritual reasons (Local significance).

Guidelines for Inclusion:

- Is important for its associations with an identifiable group

Not researched

- Is important to a community's sense of place.

Not researched

Guidelines for Exclusion:

- Is only important to the community for amenity reasons

No information available on this point.

- Is retained only in preference to a proposed alternative.

No information available on this point.

Types of items which meet this criterion include:

- Items which are esteemed by the community for their cultural values;

No information available on this point

- Items which if damaged or destroyed would cause a community a sense of loss;

No information available on this point.

and/or

- Items which contribute to a community's sense of identity.

No information available on this point.

Items are excluded if:

- They are valued only for their amenity (service convenience); and/or

No information available on this point.

- The community seeks their retention only in preference to a proposed alternative.

No information available on this point.

Criterion (e) Research potential

An item has potential to yield information that will contribute to the understanding of New South Wales' cultural or natural history (State significance) OR

An item has potential to yield information that will contribute to an understanding of the area's cultural or natural history (Local significance).

Guidelines for Inclusion:

- Has the potential to yield new or further substantial scientific and/or archaeological information

Not applicable. The site is considered unlikely to have significant archaeological potential.

- Is an important benchmark or reference site or type

Not applicable (see above).

- Provides evidence of past human cultures that is unavailable elsewhere.

Not applicable (see above).

Guidelines for Exclusion:

- The knowledge gained would be irrelevant to research on science, human history or culture

Considered likely to be applicable.

- Has little archaeological or research potential

Considered likely to be applicable.

- Only contains information that is readily available from other resources or archaeological sites.

Considered likely to be applicable.

Criterion (f) Rarity

An item possesses uncommon, rare or endangered aspects of New South Wales' cultural or natural history (State significance); OR

An item possesses uncommon, rare or endangered aspects of the area's cultural or natural history (Local significance).

Guidelines for Inclusion:

- Provides evidence of a defunct custom, way of life or process

Not Applicable.

- Demonstrates a process, custom or other human activity that is in danger of being lost

Not Applicable.

- Shows unusually accurate evidence of a significant human activity

Not applicable.

- Is the only example of its type

Not applicable as there are three other heritage listed houses of the same period within the Ryde LGA, however two of these are more modest examples, and the other has stylistic differences to the subject house. Inter-war California Bungalow style houses within the 2 Ryde HCAs examined are more modest examples and not as finely detailed as the subject house.

- Demonstrates designs or techniques of exceptional interest

Applicable as the comparative analysis table establishes, the house is locally rare as a house of the Inter-war California Bungalow style within Ryde LGA, and as a house which is a finely detailed, substantial representative example of the Inter-war California Bungalow style.

- Shows rare evidence of a significant human activity important to a community.

Not applicable.

Guidelines for Exclusion:

- Is not rare

Not Applicable. The subject house is considered rare at a local level (Ryde LGA) as a fine representative example of the Inter-war California Bungalow style.

- Is numerous but under threat

Not Applicable.

Criterion (g) Representativeness

An item is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a class of New South Wales' cultural or natural places; or cultural or natural environments (State significance) OR

An item is important in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a class of the area's cultural or natural places; or cultural or natural environments (Local significance).

Guidelines for Inclusion:

- Is a fine example of its type

Applicable. The house at 68 Denistone Road is considered to be a fine representative example of the Inter-war California Bungalow style which retains a substantial garden setting including inter-war period features such as palm trees.

- Has the principal characteristics of a particular way of life, philosophy, custom, significant process, design, technique or activity

Applicable as the subject house has the principal characteristics of the Inter-war California Bungalow style, including terracotta tiled gabled and hipped roof form, shingled and imitation half-timbered gable ends, dark brickwork, verandahs with brick balustrades and pairs of timber posts, timber-framed casement windows with fanlights above, extensive use of lead lighting, decorative paneled plaster ceilings, use of timber fretwork friezes and timber paneled doors to the interior.

- Is a significant variation to a class of items.

Not Applicable. The house is considered to be a fine representative example of the Inter-war California Bungalow style.

- Is part of a group which collectively illustrates a representative type

Not Applicable.

- Is outstanding because of its setting, condition or size

Applicable at a local level due to the prominent corner location and substantial garden setting of the house.

- Is outstanding because of its integrity or the esteem in which it is held.

Applicable at a local level due to the integrity of the house.

Guidelines for Exclusion:

- Is a poor example of its type.

Not Applicable.

- Does not include or has lost the range of characteristics of a type

Not Applicable. The house retains the characteristics of an Inter-war California Bungalow, and is substantially intact.

- Does not represent well the characteristics that make up a significant variation of a type.

Not Applicable. The house is a fine representative example of an Inter-war California Bungalow.

5.2. DETAILED ASSESSMENT OF HERITAGE SIGNIFICANCE

CRITERION (A) HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE

The house Lanark Brae at 68 Denistone Road (corner Florence Avenue) is of local historical significance as evidence of the suburban subdivision of the 19th century Denistone Estate, specifically the development of the Denistone Estate Subdivision No. 2, lots of which were offered for sale from December 1914, and of the operation of a building covenant on the land.

CRITERION (B) HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE (ASSOCIATION)

Not relevant, as there is no known historical association with significant persons.

CRITERION (C) AESTHETIC/TECHNICAL SIGNIFICANCE

The house and property are of local aesthetic significance, as the house is a finely detailed, substantial representative example of an Inter-war California Bungalow style house, built within the core period for this house style, on a large prominent corner site within a garden setting which retains significant inter-war period garden features including three palm trees, brick and stone edging to paths and garden beds.

The house is remarkably intact and features distinctive exterior elements of the style including leadlight timber-framed casement windows, bay windows, return verandah and a small eastern verandah, dark face brickwork, terracotta tiled hipped and gabled roof, gable ends featuring timber shingling and imitation half timbering, brick verandah balustrades with timber posts above, and distinctive internal elements of the style including timber fretwork frieze and timber pilasters between main hallway and lounge/dining area, tiled fireplaces with timber mantelpieces to formal rooms, timber paneled doors, timber floors and decorative plaster ceilings.

CRITERION (D) SOCIAL SIGNIFICANCE

Not researched.

CRITERION (E) RESEARCH POTENTIAL

Not relevant. The property is considered unlikely to have significant archaeological potential.

CRITERION (F) RARITY

The house and property are rare at a local level as a substantial Inter-war California Bungalow style house on a prominent corner property retaining a substantial garden setting including inter-war period garden features.

CRITERION (G) REPRESENTATIVENESS

The house is a finely detailed, substantial representative example of an Inter-war California Bungalow style house within a substantial garden setting retaining inter-war garden features.

INTEGRITY

The house and property exhibit a substantial degree of integrity with only minor alterations including partial verandah enclosure to create a sunroom, rear addition for an additional bedroom, and construction of new garage/workshop to the rear of the house.

5.3. SUMMARY STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The house Lanark Brae at 68 Denistone Road (corner Florence Avenue), Denistone is of local historical significance as evidence of the suburban subdivision of the 19th century Denistone Estate, specifically the development of the Denistone Estate Subdivision No. 2, lots of which were offered for sale from December 1914, and of the operation of a building covenant on the land.

The house and property are of local aesthetic significance, as the house is a finely detailed, substantial representative example of the Inter-war California Bungalow style, built within the core period for this house style, on a large prominent corner site within a garden setting which retains significant inter-war period garden features including three palm trees, and brick and stone edging to paths and garden beds. The house is remarkably intact and features distinctive exterior elements of the style including leadlight timber-framed casement windows, bay windows, return verandah and a small eastern verandah, dark face brickwork, terracotta tiled hipped and gabled roof, gable ends featuring timber shingling and imitation half timbering, brick verandah balustrades with timber posts above, and distinctive internal elements of the style including timber fretwork frieze and timber pilasters between main hallway and lounge/dining area, tiled fireplaces with timber mantelpieces to formal rooms, timber paneled doors, timber floors and decorative plaster ceilings.

The house and property are rare at a local level as a substantial Inter-war California Bungalow style house on a prominent corner property retaining a substantial garden setting including inter-war period garden features.

6.0 CONCLUSION/RECOMMENDATIONS

6.1. COUNCIL ACTIONS

It is recommended that as this report has established the local heritage significance of the property at 68 Denistone Road, Denistone (Lots 1,2 & 3, DP1096437), the City of Ryde Council proceed with the process of heritage listing the site by amending the Ryde LEP 2014 to include the site as a heritage item under Schedule 5 Part 1: Heritage Items of that LEP.

6.2. POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS WITH REGARD TO FUTURE DEVELOPMENT PROPOSALS FOR THE SITE

- Ensure the house “Lanark Brae” and early 20th Century garden elements on the site including the three palm trees, and brick and stone edging within the garden, are retained and conserved as part of any future proposals for the site
- Future proposals should ensure conservation and restoration of the property by retaining the internal spatial arrangement of the house, interior and exterior original features, finishes and details, while also allowing provision for an ensuite/bathroom to Bed 2, and new kitchen, laundry, bathroom fitouts.
- Preferably retain the use of the property as a residence.
- Future proposals may involve rear additions to the house or new structures at the rear of the property, providing these do not affect significant elements of the site, have an appropriate relationship to the street frontages and are of an appropriate height and scale which does not dominate or detract from the house “Lanark Brae” as the main significant building on the property.
- Require any development proposal for the site to include a Heritage Impact Statement including a Schedule of Conservation Works. The undertaking of work included in the Schedule of Conservation Works should be a Condition of any development consent for the site and should be certified as completed prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate following a development approval. The Schedule of Conservation Works is to include:
 - Works to remove later accretions to the house which detract - such as removal of the circa 1950s sunroom (partial verandah enclosure) on the western side verandah and reinstatement of this area as part of the open verandah
 - Works to repair damaged plasterwork to interior walls and any other elements damaged by illegal building works

It should be noted that the following site elements are of low heritage significance:

- 4th bedroom to the north-west corner of the house, a later (post-1943) addition.
- decking to the rear of the house
- the garage/workshop, and
- roof connecting the rear of the house to the garage/workshop.

DESCRIPTION

DESIGNER: Not known
MAKER/BUILDER: Not known
YEAR STARTED: 1920 YEAR COMPLETED: 1920 CIRCA: NO

PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION:

The house Lanark Brae is a single storey dark face brick house located on the north-western corner of Denistone Road and Florence Avenue, featuring a hipped and gabled terracotta tiled roof, simple stuccoed brick chimneys, and timber-framed casement windows and fanlights. The house features a return verandah on the south and west elevations, returning around the front south-west corner. The verandahs feature timber floors and brick balustrades with pairs of timber posts above. The ceiling to the main return verandah is a plain paneled ceiling, however the ceiling to the eastern verandah is decorative plaster. There are steps flanked by stuccoed brick dwarf walls onto the return verandah from the south and west. The timber-panelled front door features a leadlight panel and is surrounded by leadlight sidelights and fanlights. The house also features bay windows to the front (south) and western side elevations, and leadlight windows including two small leadlight windows to the eastern elevation either side of the lounge room fireplace.

The garden includes significant original features including three palm trees located near the house and brick and stone path and garden bed edging.

The front fence to Denistone Avenue is a timber picket fence which while not original is not unsympathetic.

PHYSICAL CONDITION: Good

MODIFICATION DATE/S:

Evident alterations to the house and site include:

- Circa 1950s partial verandah enclosure to the western side of the return verandah to form a sunroom. The original western steps onto the verandah at this point have been retained, and the enclosure is lightweight and easily removeable.
- Covered decking to the rear of the house, which appears relatively modern.
- Single storey brick extension to the rear north-western corner of the house to create Bedroom 4/study room. This has been constructed in brickwork to match existing and roofed with terracotta tiling to match existing and is considered to be a sympathetic rear addition to the house.
- New garage/workshop to the rear of the house.

FURTHER COMMENTS:

During 2018 some illegal building works have taken place, including removal of plasterwork from small sections of interior walls.

HISTORY

The land at Denistone was the home of the Wallumedde people, however European settlement of the area from the 1790s drove indigenous people out of the area, with no references to indigenous residents after 1809. Prominent indigenous residents of the area included Bennelong and his kinsman Bidgee Bidgee.

The site at 68 Denistone Road was part of a land grant made to John Varnice in 1795 known as "Porteus Mount".

In 1806 shortly after his arrival in the colony of New South Wales, Gregory Blaxland had purchased the nearby 450-acre Brush Farm grant. In 1829 Gregory Blaxland transferred Brush Farm Estate to his eldest daughter Elizabeth and her husband Dr. Thomas Forster. The following year Forster expanded the estate by purchasing the "Porteous Mount" grants of 120 acres, east of Brush Farm Estate. Forster built an eight-room house which he called Deniston after his birthplace, possibly Dennistoun in Lanarkshire, Scotland.

On May 23 1840, Dr Forster leased 'the dwelling houses known by the name of Deniston' and 100 acres (40.4 hectares) of land to Major Edward Darvall for a period of 12 years. After the Darvalls' departure, Deniston House was occupied by Andrew Hardie McCulloch and his family. The house was burned down by bushfires on 30 December 1854.

Deniston Estate was purchased by Richard Rouse Terry on 9 December 1872. Terry was the grandson of the 'Botany Bay Rothschild' Samuel Terry and of Richard Rouse who gave his name to Rouse Hill. R.R. Terry built the present two-storey sandstone Denistone House (now part of Ryde Hospital) and resided there for many years after its completion in 1874. The property, comprising 140 acres, was brought under Torrens title in 1884. After Terry's death in 1898, ownership passed to his son John Edgar Terry, accountant of Sydney, and son-in-law Frank David Muller, gentleman of Sydney.

In November 1913 it was reported that the first of three subdivisions of the Denistone Estate into 169 quarter-acre blocks would be offered for sale. Also, in 1913, 6.8 hectares of the estate, including Denistone House, was purchased by the New South Wales Government for use as a convalescent hospital for men, complementing the Carrara convalescent hospital for women at Vaucluse. The site later grew into the Ryde District Soldiers' Memorial Hospital which opened on 12 May 1934 with 56 beds, with Denistone House converted into the nurses' quarters. The house was later used for a maternity ward.

The second subdivision of the Denistone Estate, including the current No. 68 Denistone Road, was offered for sale between August and December 1914. While many lots were sold in 1914 and 1915, the current 68 Denistone Road site was not sold until its purchase by Christina Ann Jones, widow, on 15 November 1917.

Mrs. Christina Ann Jones was the widow of the Reverend Henry Jones, a Methodist minister who had served in New South Wales and Queensland in a long career, before dying in 1910 at the age of 61. Mrs. Jones was born in Ryde in 1853, the daughter of Andrew and Janet Short. After her husband's death their only child, Henry Spencer Jones, enlisted in World War I and returned after service in France. During his absence overseas Mrs. Jones moved in with her relatives at Clyde Cottage, North Road, Ryde. When Mrs. Jones bought the land now known as 68 Denistone Road, there was a covenant on the property requiring the erection of a building worth at least £300.

Historical records indicate the house at 68 Denistone Road was built in 1920. Mrs. Jones sold her previous home at 36 Wisdom Road, Greenwich on 6 November 1916 to Walter Berry, grazier, retaining a mortgage over the property. Her address was amended to Clyde Cottage on 1 November 1916 on her son's war record. After her son's return from the war in 1919 the mortgage on her previous home in Greenwich was discharged on 7 February 1920. Henry Spencer Jones married Margaret Kavanagh on 29 April 1920.

Therefore in 1920 Mrs. Jones had received the funds from the sale of her previous home, and her son had returned from the war and married. This provides both the means and motive for the construction of the new house in Denistone. Mrs. Jones first appears in the Sands Directory at the Denistone address in 1921. The directory was published in January each year, with entries closing in the first week of the preceding October. Therefore 68 Denistone Road must have been completed and occupied by early October 1920. Mrs. Jones named the house Lanark Brae after her previous marital home in Greenwich.

In 1919 and 1922 Mrs. Jones purchased additional land to expand the site to the west and north, and then transferred the enlarged site to her son Henry Spencer Jones on 24 October 1924.

A sewerage diagram from circa 1930 shows the house on its enlarged site, with a rear garage erected in 1926 accessed off Florence Avenue.

Mrs Christina Jones died in 1934. Henry Spencer Jones retained the house until 1961 when it was transferred to Olga Blanche Scott, married woman of Eastwood, on 9 November 1961.

Mrs. Scott sold the property on 13 February 1990 for $395,000 to Graeme Lloyd Willis and Doreen Myfanwy Willis as joint tenants.

Following the death of Mrs. Willis in January 2018 the house was sold again, this time for $3,601,000.

ASSESSMENT

SHR Criterion (a) Historical:

The house Lanark Brae at 68 Denistone Road (corner Florence Avenue), Denistone is of local historical significance as evidence of the suburban subdivision of the 19th century Denistone Estate, specifically the development of the Denistone Estate Subdivision No. 2, lots of which were offered for sale from December 1914, and of the operation of a building covenant on the land.

SHR Criterion (b) Historical Association:

Not relevant

SHR Criterion (c) Aesthetic/Technical:

The house and property are of local aesthetic significance, as the house is a finely detailed, substantial representative example of an Inter-war California Bungalow style house, built within the core period for this house style, on a large prominent corner site within a garden setting which retains significant inter-war period garden features including three palm trees, brick and stone edging to paths and garden beds.

The house is remarkably intact and features distinctive exterior elements of the style including leadlight timber-framed casement windows, bay windows, return verandah and a small eastern verandah, dark face brickwork, terracotta tiled hipped and gabled roof, gable ends featuring timber shingling and imitation half timbering, brick verandah balustrades with timber posts above, and distinctive internal elements of the style including timber fretwork frieze and timber pilasters between main hallway and lounge/dining area, tiled fireplaces with timber mantelpieces to formal rooms, timber paneled doors, timber floors and decorative plaster ceilings.

SHR Criterion (d) Social:

Not relevant

SHR Criterion (e) Research:

Not relevant

SHR Criterion (f) Rarity:

The house and property are rare at a local level as a substantial Inter-war California Bungalow style house on a prominent corner property retaining a substantial garden setting including inter-war period garden features.

SHR Criterion (g) Representative:

The house is a finely detailed, substantial representative example of an Inter-war California Bungalow style house within a substantial garden setting retaining inter-war garden features.

Integrity/Intactness:

The house and property exhibit a substantial degree of integrity with only minor alterations including partial verandah enclosure to create a sunroom, rear addition for an additional bedroom, and construction of new garage/workshop to the rear of the house.

ADMIN

MANAGEMENT CATEGORY AND TYPE:

Statutory Instrument: list on a Local Environmental Plan

Develop a Statement of Heritage Impact

RECOMMENDED MANAGEMENT:

- Ensure the house "Lanark Brae" and early 20th Century garden elements on the site including the three palm trees, and brick and stone edging within the garden, are retained and conserved as part of any future proposals for the site
- Future proposals should ensure conservation and restoration of the property by retaining the internal spatial arrangement of the rooms house, interior and exterior original features, finishes and details, while also allowing provision for an ensuite/bathroom to Bed 2, and new kitchen, laundry, bathroom fitouts.
- Preferably retain the use of the property as a residence.
- Future proposals may involve rear additions to the house or new structures at the rear of the property, providing these do not affect significant elements of the site, have an appropriate relationship to the street frontages and are of an appropriate height and scale which does not dominate or detract from the house "Larnark Brae" as the main significant building on the property.

- Require any development proposal for the site to include a Heritage Impact Statement including a Schedule of Conservation Works. The undertaking of work included in the Schedule of Conservation Works should be a Condition of any development consent for the site and should be certified as completed prior to the issue of any Occupation Certificate following a development approval. The Schedule of Conservation Works is to include:
 - o Works to remove later accretions to the house which detract - such as removal of the circa 1950s sunroom (partial verandah enclosure) on the western side verandah and reinstatement of this area as part of the open verandah
 - o Works to repair damaged plasterwork to interior walls and any other elements damaged by illegal building works
