¹ An 'actual' conflict of interests is where there is a direct conflict between a member's duties and responsibilities and their private interests or other duties.

² A 'potential' conflict of interests is where a panel member has a private interest or other duty that could conflict with their duties as a panel member in the future.

³ A 'reasonably perceived' conflict of interests is where a person could reasonably perceive that a panel member's private interests or other duties are likely to improperly influence the performance of their duties as a panel member, whether or not this is in fact the case.

I would like to declare that I formally sat on the Hunter & Central Coast Regional Planning Panel with Garry Fielding whose signature appears in the statement of Environmental Effects. As it has been 3 years since we last sat on a panel together it is considered that sufficient time has past for this to not be a reasonably perceived conflict of interest.
