At a public determination meeting on 17 March 2021 the Sydney North Planning Panel deferred its decision of the following development application:

PPSSNH-122 – Hornsby – DA509/2020
423-521 Old Northern Road, Castle Hill

This application relates to 423-521 Old Northern Road, Castle Hill (the site). The proposal seeks to develop a new 'Innovation Hub' building on the norther boundary of the site. The proposed Innovation Hub is focused on science, technology, and engineering activities. The proposed works are defined as 'alterations and additions' to the existing school on the site. The proposal also seeks consent for the demolition of the Wagan building and Mutien buildings.

The Sydney North Planning Panel noted in the Record of Deferral that they will determine the matter via electronic determination on receipt of a supplementary report.

At the request of community members, the Sydney North Planning Panel will now hold a further public determination meeting to consider this application. Details of the public meeting will be confirmed at a later date.
